

March 22, 2012

Dear Test Taker:

We have learned that an administrative irregularity occurred during the March 10, 2012 administration of the SAT resulting from the fire alarm sounding. Due to this irregularity, we are offering you the option to retest at no additional charge or to release your scores (if you believe your performance was not affected).

- If you would like to retest, call us to confirm your intention to cancel your original scores and take a makeup test on Saturday, March 31, 2012. To confirm this option, you must call 609-359-7678 by noon on March 28, 2012. If the makeup date doesn't work for you, but you want to retest, see "Transferring Your Registration" below.
- If you would like to release your scores from the March 10, 2012 administration of the SAT., you don't have to take any action. Once the makeup test has been administered, we will release your original scores.

Taking the Makeup

To take the makeup test, please call to confirm as noted above, then report to the test center noted below by 7:45 a.m. on the date indicated. Be sure to bring this letter with you, along with current acceptable photo identification and other items needed for test day (listed on your Admission Ticket or online at sat.collegeboard.org).

Your scores from the makeup test will be reported as March 10, 2012 test scores.

Transferring Your Registration

If you are unable to attend the makeup, you are entitled to a free transfer of your registration to a future published test date, but you must signify your intention before Saturday, March 31, 2012 by calling SAT Customer Service at 866-756-7346. Before making your decision to transfer to a future date, you may want to check directly with the colleges and programs to which you are applying to make certain of their deadlines for receipt of test scores. Note that generally scores are available between three and five weeks after a published test date.

We regret any inconvenience this situation has caused you.
